

South Central Nebraska 4-H Working Ranch Horse

South Central Nebraska 4-H Working Ranch Horse

Saturday May 16, 2009 from 10:00 a.m. 3:00 p.m.

Rocking G Arena-Guide Rock (1 mile south of Hwy. 136 & 78 Junction)

This clinic provides an opportunity for participants to learn and receive recognition for horsemanship skills developed when working with cattle. The class requires the participant to guide one cow through a prescribed course of obstacles. The entry is judged on horsemanship ability of rider, athletic ability and cow sense of the horse, and difficulty of the animal to be handled.

The Working Ranch Horse Clinic will start at 10 a.m., and be conducted by Monte Stauffer, University of Nebraska Extension Educator. The clinics will also include a discussion on rules, class procedures and judging criteria. All mounted participants will be able to work the cattle through the course while being critiqued and instructed.

- Limited to 20 riders, first come-first served basis 4-H'ers receive priority until May 9, after which adults can enter.
- $25 registration fee for Working Ranch Horse Clinic, lunch included. Make registration fee payable to "Webster County Extension"
- Unlimited number of spectators (with no fee)
- Lunch is available on the grounds
