

Companion Animal Science Option

Department of Animal Science

If you are interested in a career with dogs, cats, or other companion animals, the Department of Animal Science now offers a program for you!

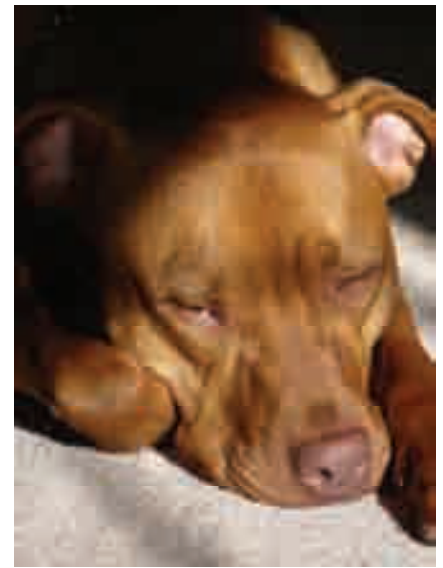

While completing college courses, get on the job training, through internships and other experiential learning opportunities.

Past student internships include:

- veterinary clinics
 - service/therapy dog
 - pet food companies
 - dog trainers
 - zoos
 - marine mammal training
- ...and many more!

Companion animal courses offered:

Introduction to Food Technology for Companion Animals
Human—Companion Animal Interactions
Introduction to Companion Animals
Companion Animal Behavior
Companion Animal Nutrition
Horse, Dog, and Cat Genetics and Breeding
Plus courses in reproduction, physiology, genetics & more!

Possible careers include:

Veterinary medicine
Genetics
Humane education
Exotic animal care
Pet food industry
Pet supply industry
Sales
Journalism
Product design
Training and behavior
Breeding
Boarding kennel
Therapy and service

For more information:

Lisa Karr-Lilienthal

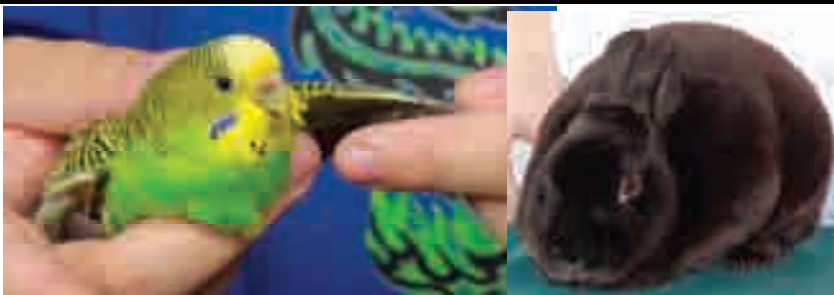

Lkarr-lilienthal2@unl.edu

402-472-6458

C204 Animal Science

Lincoln, NE 68583-0908

www.unl.edu/animalscience

UNIVERSITY OF Nebraska
Lincoln